

Safe in the Everlasting Arms

He turns to the little children and says come and sit on my knee Whoever welcomes a little child like this in my name welcomes me

A shepherd owns a hundred sheep and one of them wanders away he leaves the ninety nine on the hills and goes to look for the stray

Safe in the everlasting loving arms of Jesus (x2)

A father stands by the window the tears running down his face He longs for the day when his son returns in the meantime he'll watch and wait

Safe in the everlasting loving arms of Jesus (x2)

Sometimes when I'm feeling scared or lost or lonely or sad When no-one's around to hold me tight not even my mum or my dad

Safe in the everlasting loving arms of Jesus (x2)
