

Just Imagine

Come with me now, there's a place that I know
It's not far away if you're ready to go
You'll find it's a place where things can't go wrong
There's a welcome awaiting – it's where you belong
Just imagine

Look at the wolf lying down with the lamb
The lion feeds from the child's hand
And just over here there's a wishing well
It's a magical thing and it's wishing you well
Just imagine

If you need anything this is where you start
Just look and you'll see the desire of your heart
You don't have to struggle or try to be good
Just close your eyes and sleep in the wood
Just imagine

The wood is the home of the one you seek
Who binds up the broken and strengthens the weak
You can come any time that you're needing a friend
For this is the place that will never end
Just imagine, the wood beyond the world

*No more crying no more dying
The wood beyond the world*
